

And finally...

BPS Values

- As you know, the staff and children had lots of discussions last year about how to simplify our values and behaviour expectations.
- The ways in which we behave and treat each other have not changed- the words we use to describe these values cover everything that people felt was important.
- Every half term, we will have a special values assembly. There will be special certificates for children who have shown our focus value.
- The children have been working hard on the corridor displays to show these values.
